Bright Motors Auto

Car Sales Analysis

03 March 2015 - 27 April 2015

Analysis by : Lehlogonolo Sebothoma

Agenda

01 Presentation Overview

02 Executive Summary

03 Revenue by Make

04 Revenue by Model

05 Regional Performance

06 Price & Milage Analysis

07 Price & Milage Key Insights

08 Profit Margin Analysis

09 Monthly Sales Trend

10 Recommendations

MISSION

- Drive profitable growth for Bright Motors by leveraging sales data to optimize inventory, pricing, and regional focus.

PRESENTATION OUTLINE

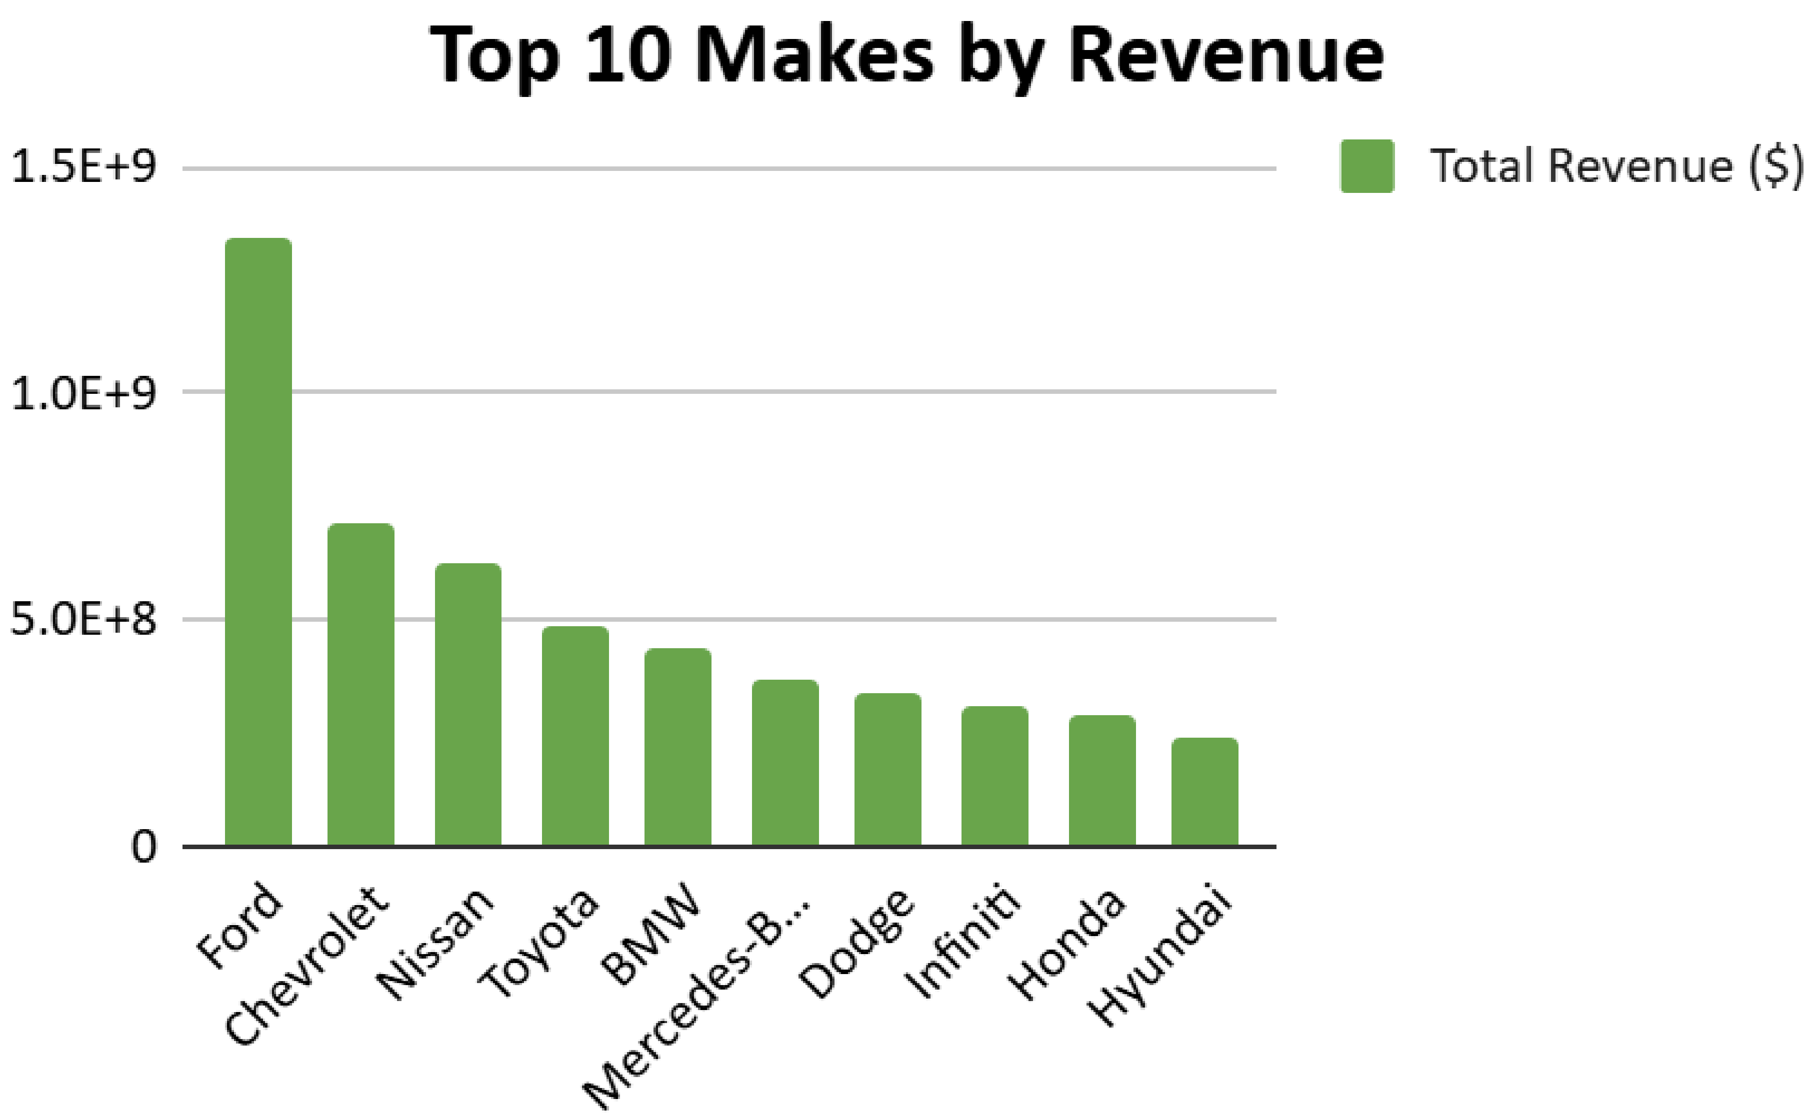
- Data analysis from 03 March 2015 to 27 April 2015 reveals clear sales patterns for Bright mortors. Ford F-150 dominates revenue volume, with Florida and California driving the highest regional sales. Low margin, mid mileage vehicles between 20k to 200k miles account for the majority of units sold, while newer model years show steady increase in average selling price. The data also shows a peak in sales activity in early April 2015, followed by noticeable decline toward end of the month.

Executive Summary

Total Revenue	Units Sold	Average Selling Price
$7.49B	550,284	$13,611

Top Make by Revevue	Top Region	Top Model
FORD	FLORIDA	FORD F-150

Revenue by Car Make

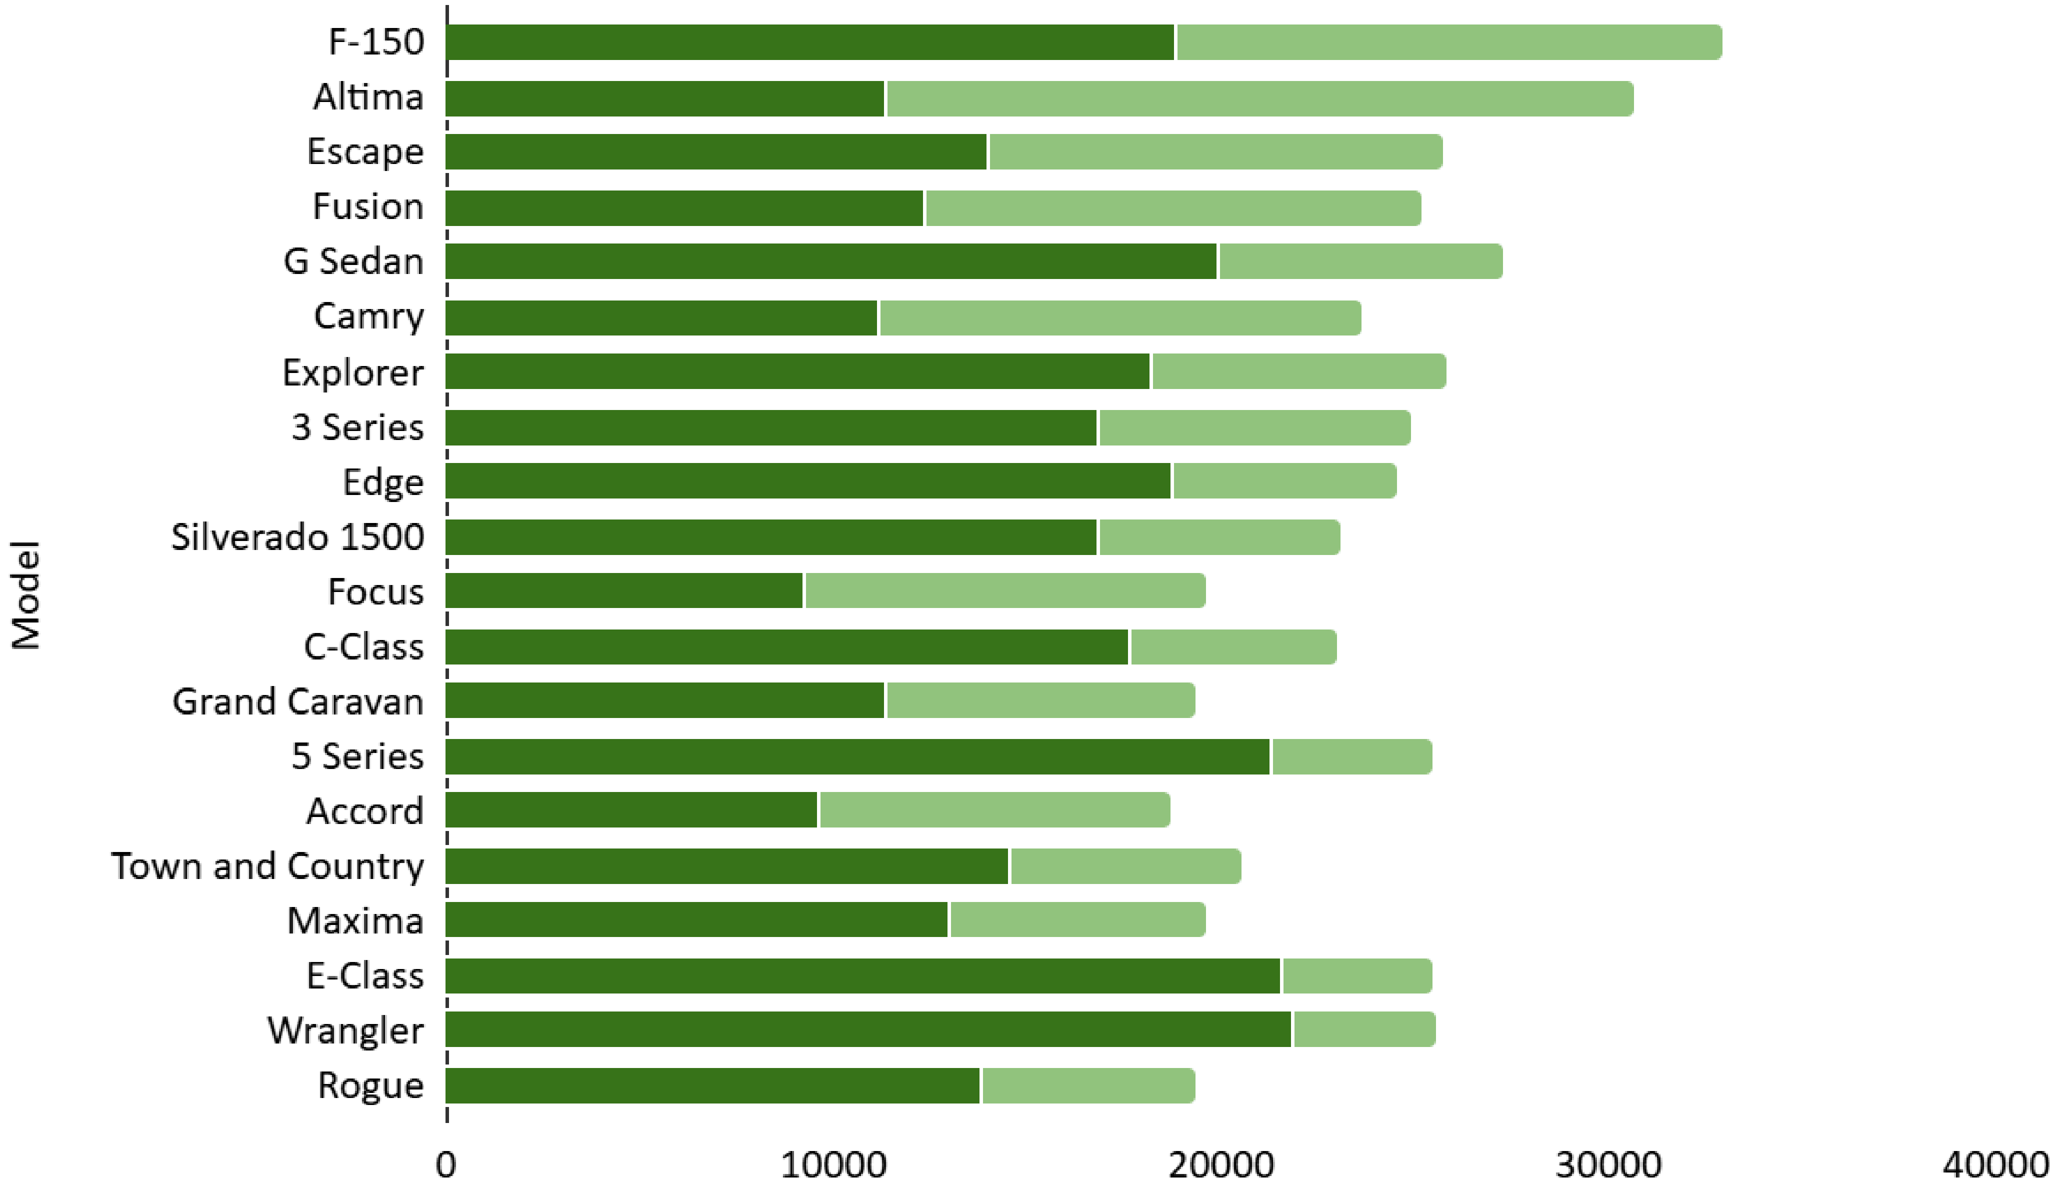


Make	Units	Revenue (million)	AVG Price ($)
Ford	92,091	1,338	14,332
Chevrolet	59,231	708	11,953
Nissan	50,280	626	11,752
Toyota	39,345	481	12,236
BMW	20,816	438	21,540
Mercedes-Benz	16,808	364	21,681
Dodge	30,225	339	11,219
Infinit	15,125	309	20,432
Honda	26,837	293	10,924
Hyundai	21,571	238	11,015

Key Insights

- Ford dominates revenue with $1,34m from 92,091 units nearly double Chevrolet at $708m.
- Ford,Chevrolet, and Nissan together make up the bulk of total sales.

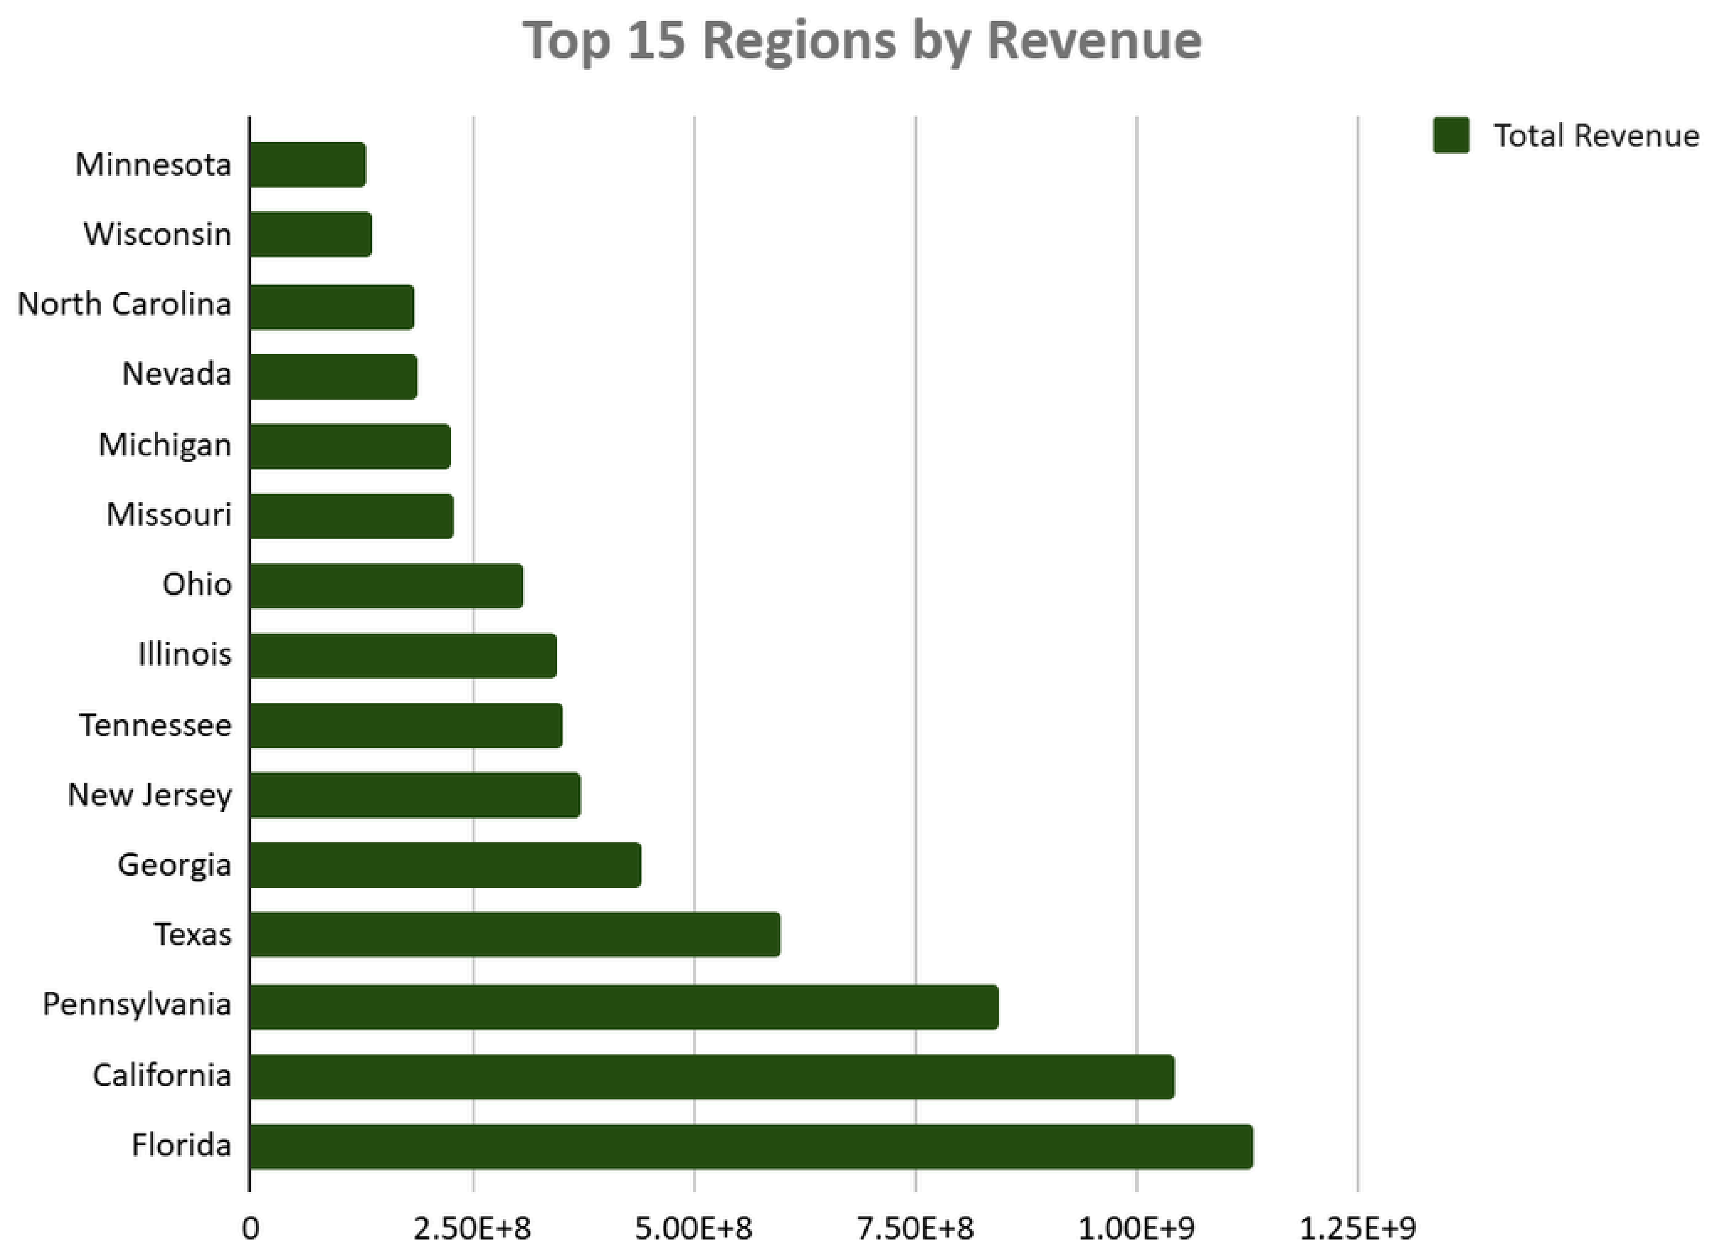
Top 10 Models by Revenue



Key Insights

- Ford F-150 is the top revenue model by a clear margin, showing strong demand for trucks in the dataset.
- Luxury brands drive higher prices, BMW and Mercedes Benz have the highest average price at $21.5k, but much lower sales volume

Regional Performance

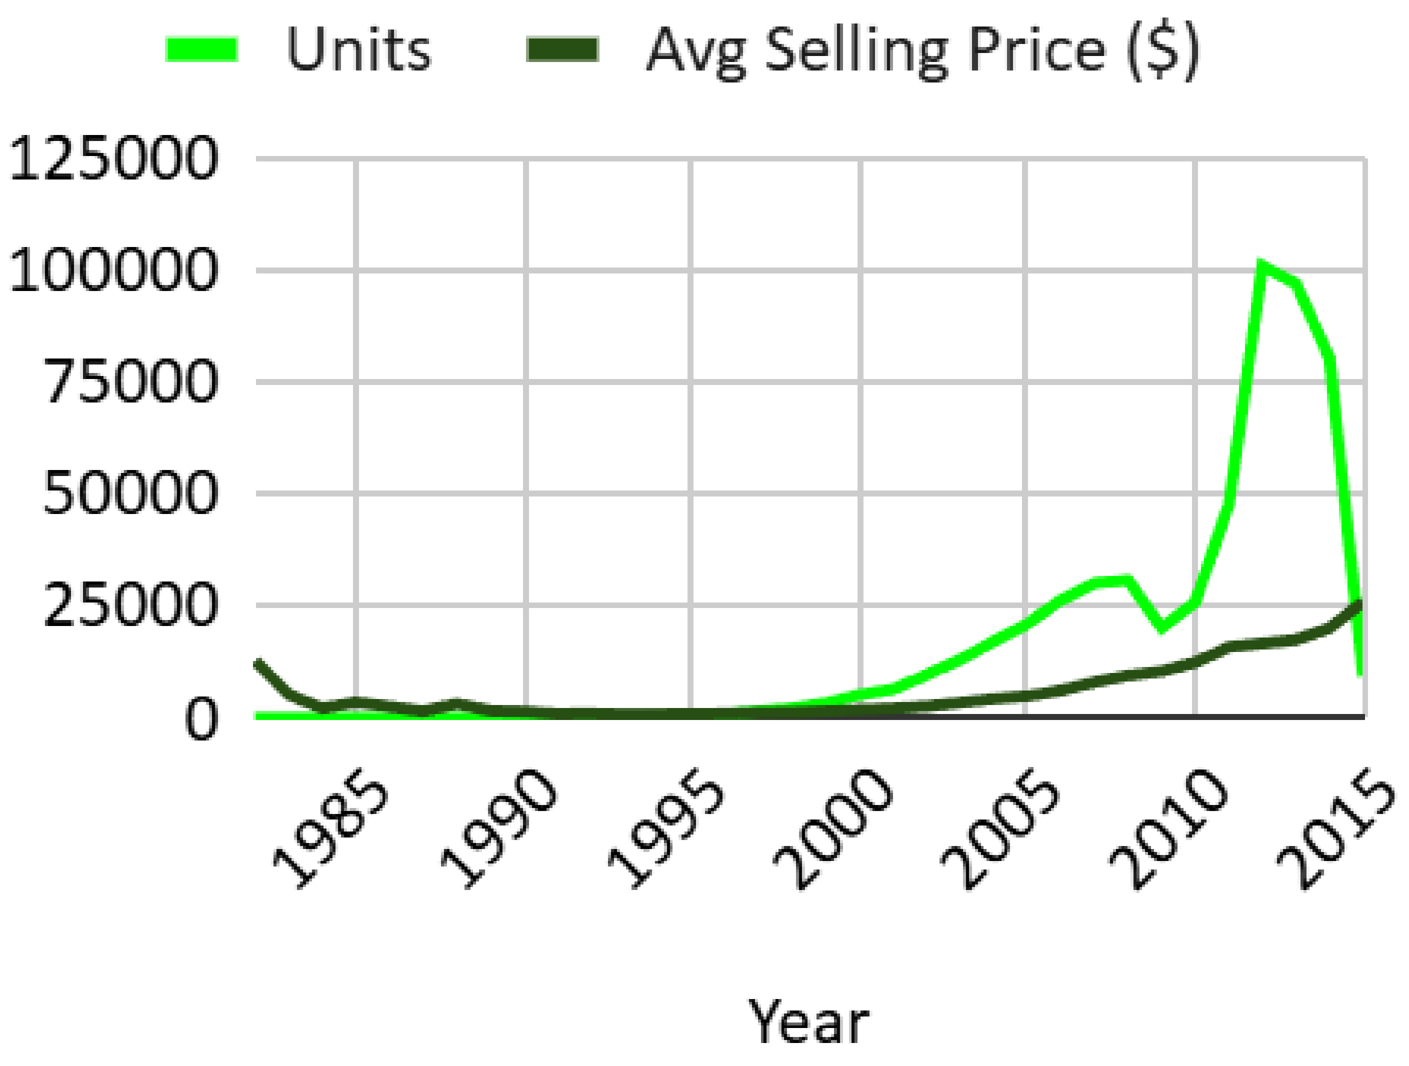


Key Insights

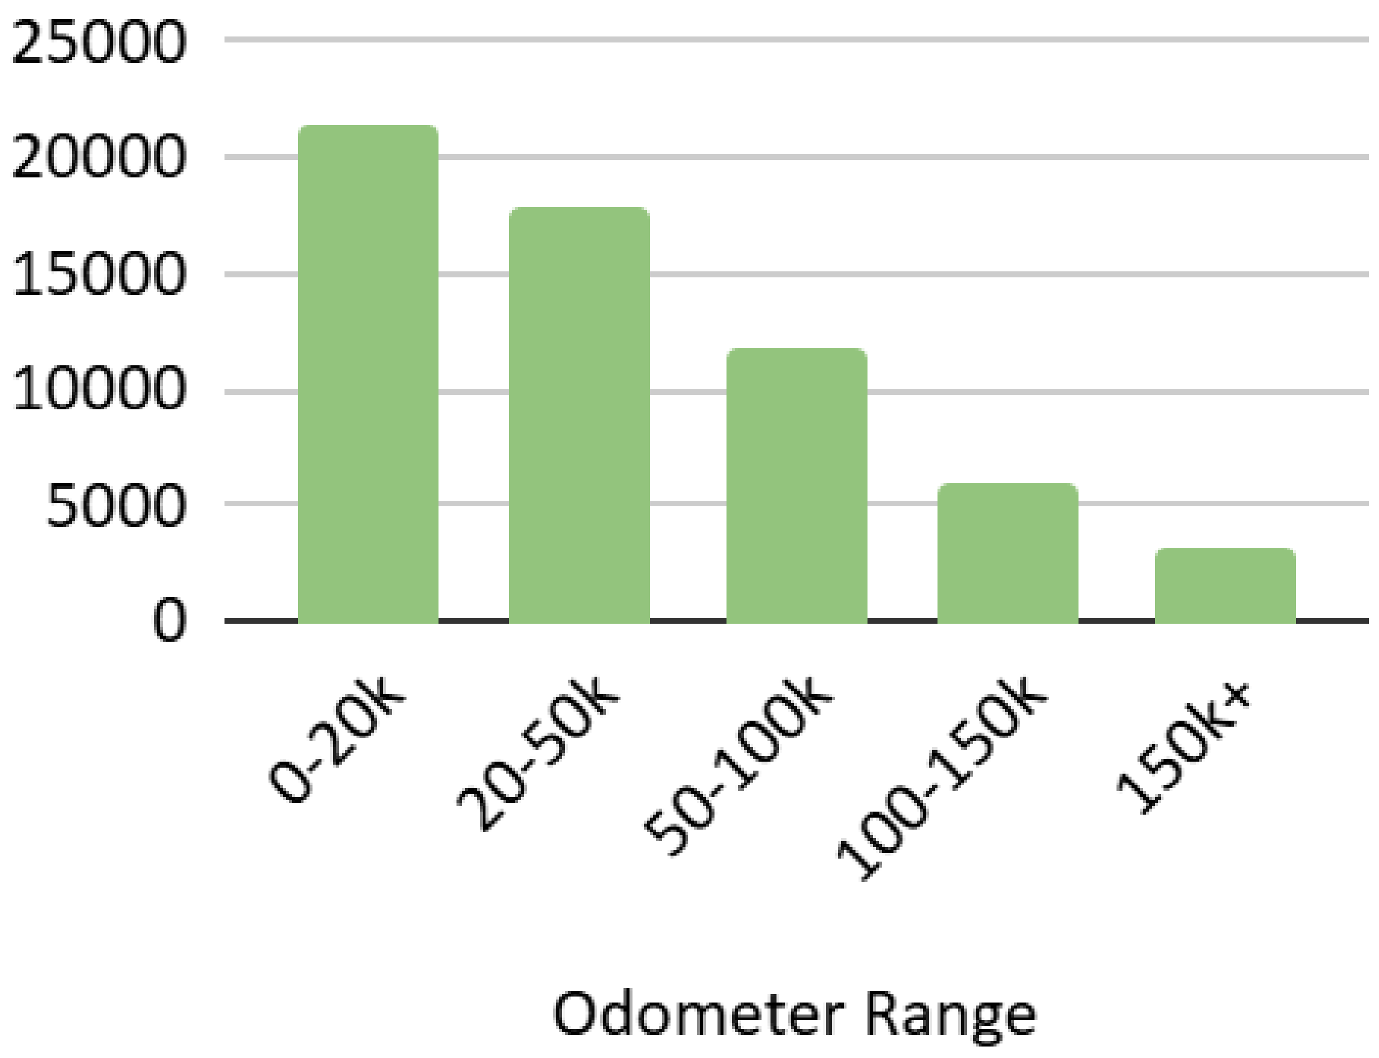
- Florida and California generate the highest revenue, far ahead of other states.
- Pennsylvania and Texas are strong secondary markets with significantly higher sales than the rest.
- Revenue drops sharply after the top 4 regions, showing concentration in a few key states.
- Midwest and Southeast states like Ohio, Illinois, Georgia make up the mid tier performance group.

Price, Year & Milege Analysis

Average Selling Price by Manufacture Year



Average Selling Price by Odometer Range

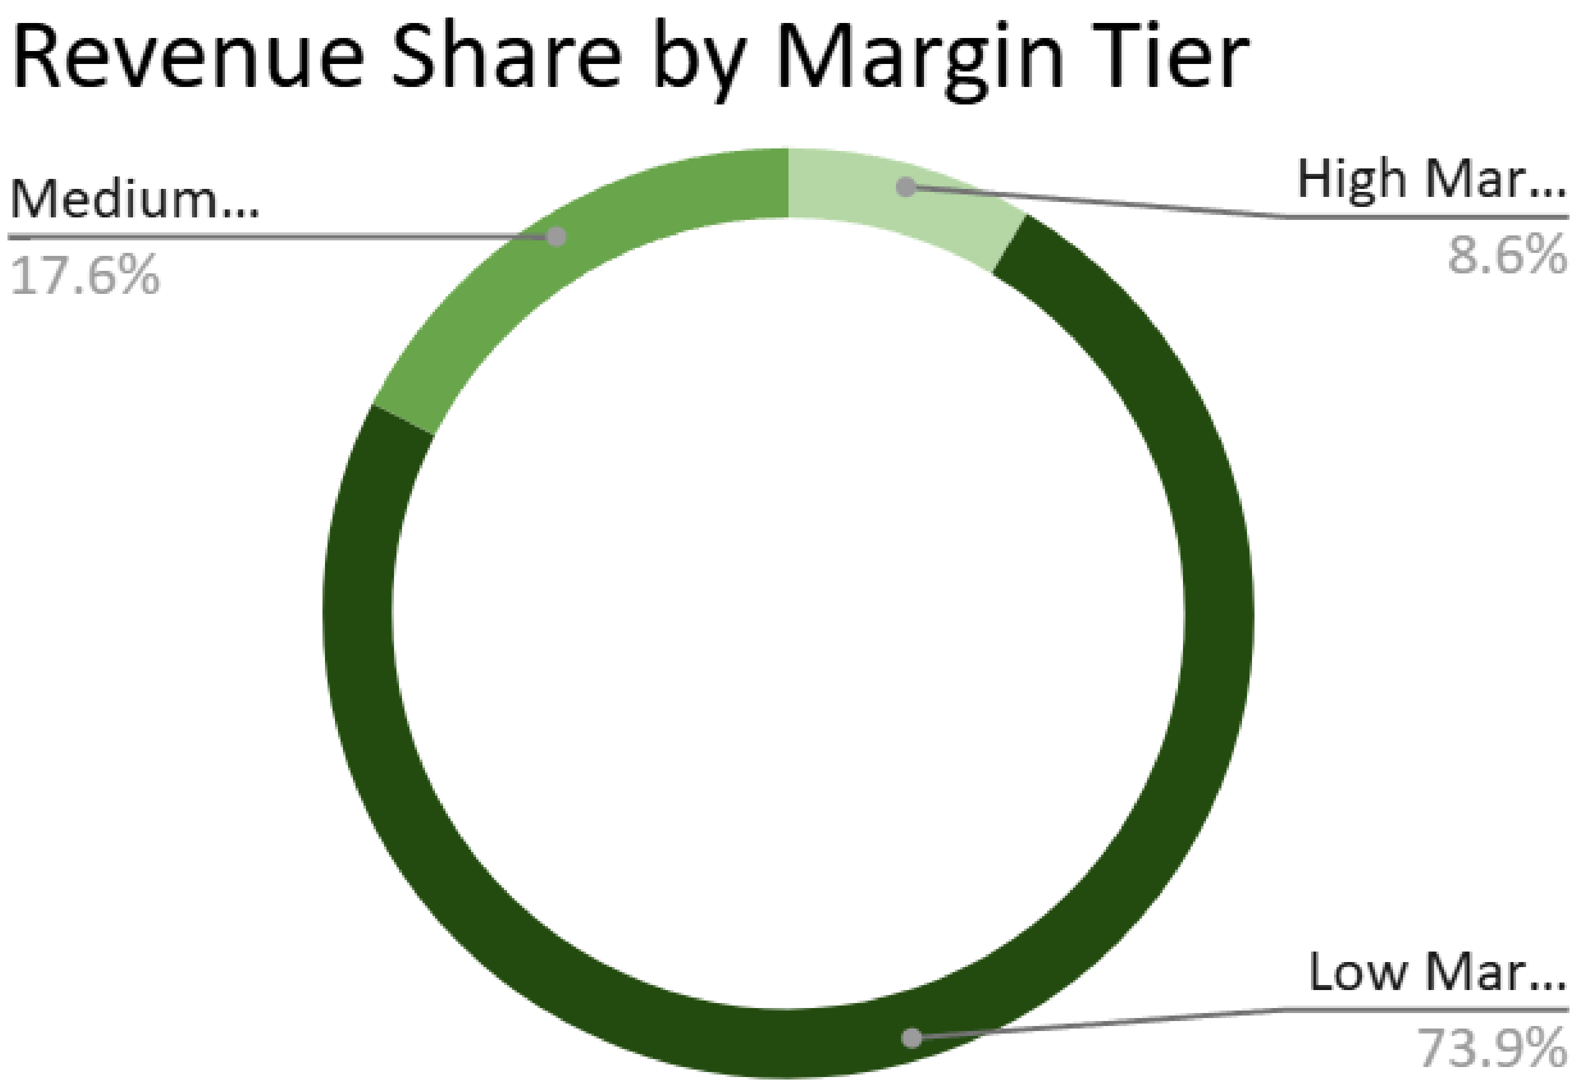


Price, Year & Milege Analysis

Key Insights

- Newer cars command higher prices, Average selling price increases steadily for vehicles manufactured after 2005, peaking around 2015.
- 2010-2015 models drive the highest sales volume, making them the core of the inventory.
- Mileage directly impacts price, Cars with 0-20k miles sell for $21k on average, while 150k+ miles drop to $4k.
- Sweet spot is 20k-100k miles: This range balances decent pricing with strong sales volume.

Profit Margin Analysis



Key Insights

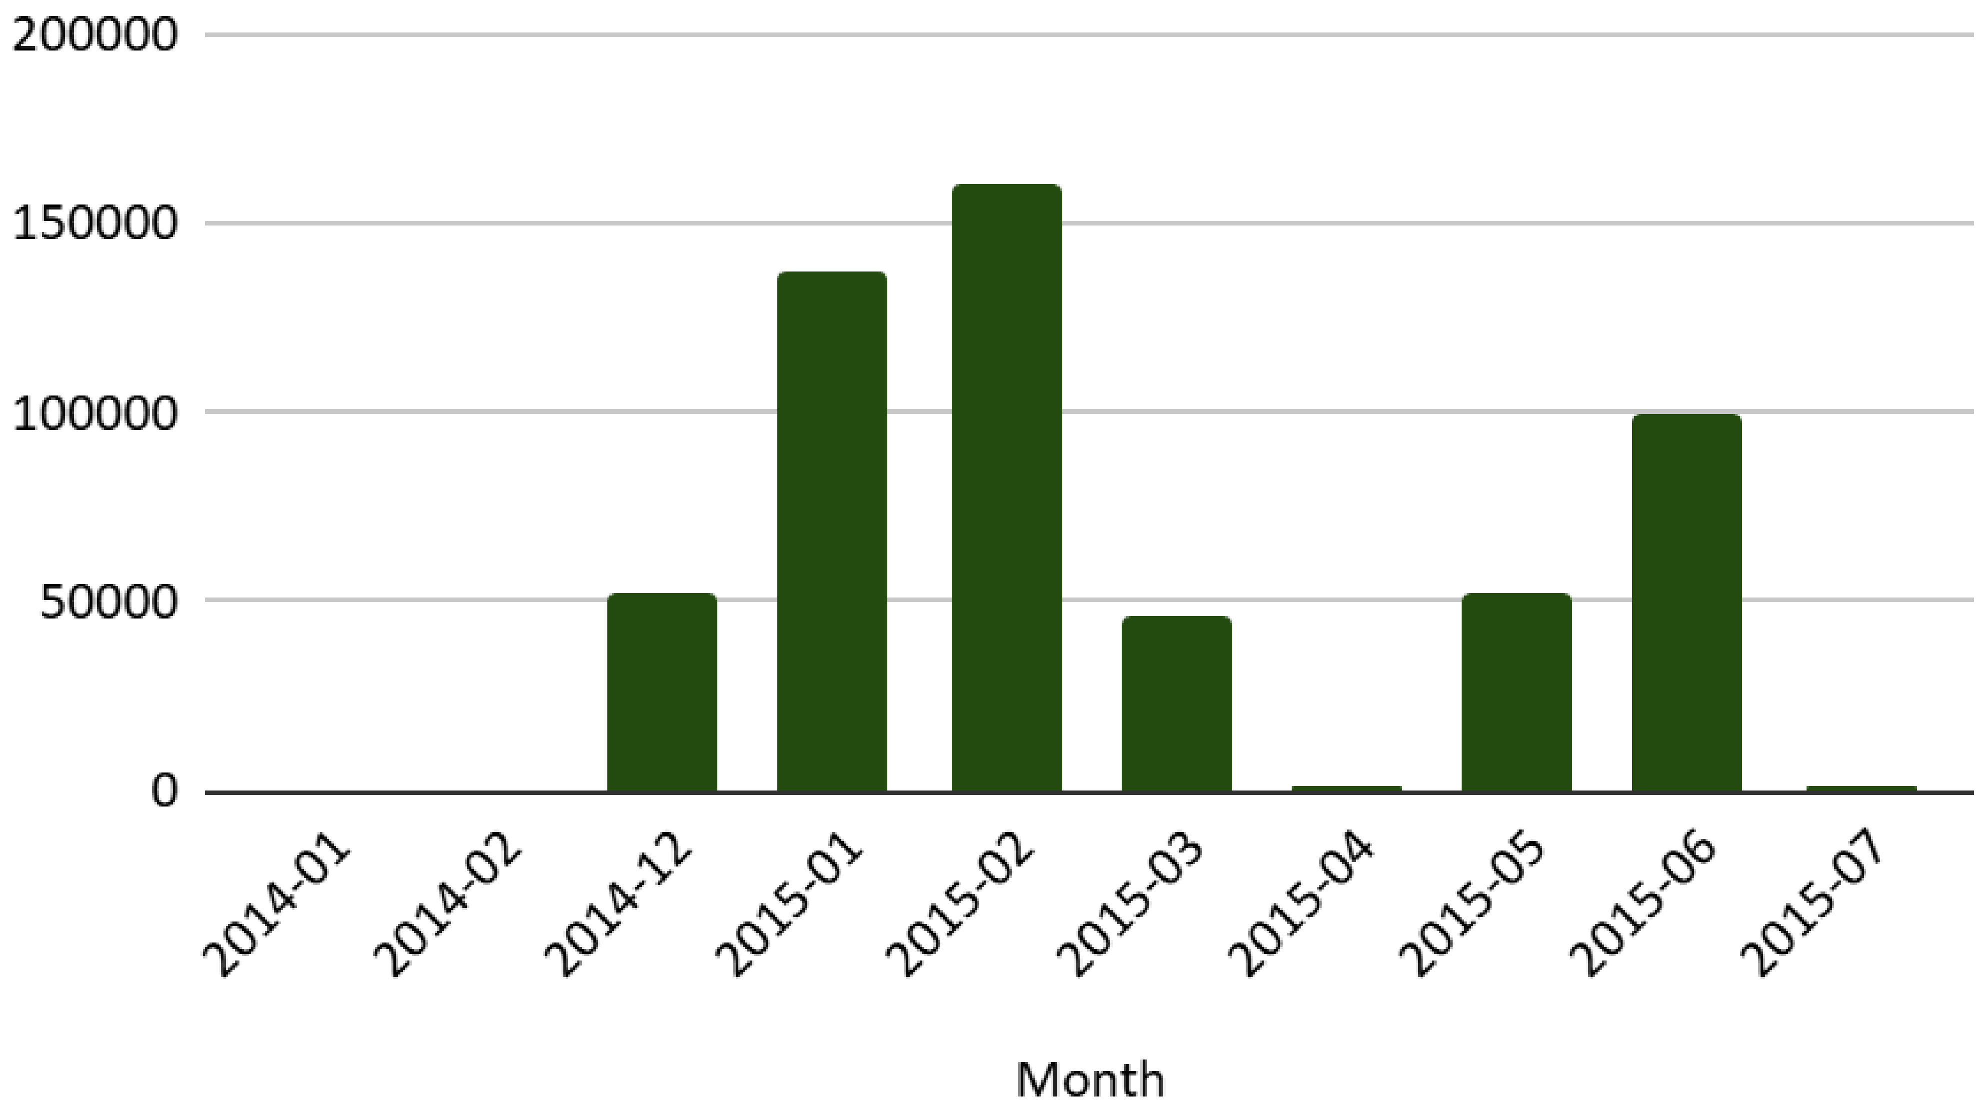
- Low margin products dominate revenue at 74.0%, driving the bulk of sales volume.
- Medium margin tier contributes 17.6% of total revenue, offering balanced profitability.
- High margin products make up only 8.6% of revenue, showing a clear growth opportunity.
- Revenue is heavily weighted toward volume over margin, suggesting pricing or mix strategy adjustments could boost profitability.

Monthly Sales Trend

Key Insights

- Peak revenue occurred in February 2015, reaching just over $160M.
- Strong sales in Jan–Feb 2015 followed by a sharp decline in March 2015.
- Revenue stabilised at a lower level from April to June 2015, with a slight recovery in June.
- Sales activity appears seasonal, with early 2015 showing the highest performance in the period analyzed.

Monthly Revenue ($M)



Recommendations

- Focus inventory on high revenue models : Prioritise Ford F-150, popular sedans, and SUVs like Altima, Escape, and Camry to match demand.
- Increase high margin product share : Promote luxury and low mileage vehicles to shift revenue mix from 74% low margin toward medium or high margin tiers.
- Target top regions for marketing : Double down on Florida, California, Texas, and Pennsylvania where revenue is highest.
- Leverage seasonal peaks : Plan promotions and stock buildup for Q1, especially January to February, to capitalise on peak sales months.
- Optimise pricing for mileage bands : Push vehicles in the 20k–100k mile range as they balance price and volume best.

Thank You